Historical/Architectural

In the 1850's, the McBride family lived in a cobblestone house in Cook County on today's Shoe Factory Road just at the edge of Blackhawk Manor Subdivision. Sadly, the cobblestone is gone. They moved to Elgin and over time, acquired much land. Thomas McBride, Sr. owned and operated a lumber company on Douglas Avenue. Their combination of land holdings and the lumber company was perfect for a growing city and made the McBride family one of Elgin's wealthiest.

Thomas McBride, Sr. had a farm on the east side of Dundee Avenue that ran from south of Columbia Avenue north to Shoe Factory Road and then east. Part of his farmland had been annexed to the city of Elgin as McBride's Second Addition. In 1890, following McBride's passing, his heirs renamed the addition as "McBride Heirs Second Addition." It was bounded on the west and east by Dundee Avenue and Liberty Street; on the north by Chester Avenue and the south by lots facing Columbia Avenue. Adjacent to the Addition was the Illinois Watch Case Company, built on some of McBride's farmland and Columbia School, making the location ideal for families. The building boom of the 1920's added the finishing touch to residential construction in the Addition.

In 1893, lot 8 in block 6 of the Addition was deeded to E. Dunbar Waldron along with other properties. Lot 8 faced Columbia Avenue west of Liberty Street. Thirty one years later, as the building boom reached its zenith, Waldron sold lot 8 to Delbert and Susie Hyde. Building permits published in the Elgin Daily News, December 1, 1924, list "Mrs. Hyde, 566 Columbia Avenue" as having been issued the permit in November. In March the following year, Delbert Hyde executed a trust deed with Sam Peterson, likely to build the house. The Elgin City Directory for 1923-24 has no listing for 566 Columbia; the 1925-26 edition lists Delbert Hyde at the address for the first time. Hyde occupied the house for just a short time; successive city directories indicate a string of occupants until 1943 when 566 Columbia became home to the Anderson family.

Delbert Hyde moved to Mooseheart in Batavia and lived there until he died in 1933. Susie Hyde died ten years later. Although they left Elgin, Hyde's continued to own the property. Following legal transactions to sort out heirs of the property, the house was sold to Carl Anderson in 1946. Two years later, he deeded it to his son Edward, an employee of the Watch Case Company. Edward Anderson remained the owner of 566 Columbia for the next forty years. It was sold from his estate in 1988. Later on, Dennis Roxworthy, well known Elgin restorationist, acquired the property, making it habitable once again.

Architectural

Following World War 1, "The promotion of home ownership became a national mission." The Chicago Bungalow, Chicago Architecture Foundation, Dominic Pacyga & Charles Shanabruch, co-editors, (2001), p.58. The 1920's signalled the end of the Victorian era and the end of the sacrifice and deprivation generated by the Great War. The decade was a time of prosperity and a building boom swept the country. The boom peaked in the late 20's and fizzled out with the Depression.

Historic Resources In The Northeast Neighborhood, p.30 states "bungalows are 1, 1/2, or 2 story houses that emphasize horizontality, and have broad and deep front porches and low pitched roofs. They often have dormers, a rectangular plan, varying exterior materials, and built-in Arts and Crafts features on the inside." Bungalows were the most popular housing style in the 1920's.

566 Columbia is a single story bungalow with a hipped roof and dormer; rectangular in shape set the long way on the lot, and with a full width, deep front porch containing slightly tapered supports. Decorative elements are the wood front door with 6 square windows and a bumpout on the east facade-likely in the dining room. The bungalow is distinguished by its windows. The east facade contains double sets of them, the front facade has a wide triple window, and the west facade contains single ones--presumably the windows describe the function of the rooms they illuminate.

The large third grade recently divided at the urgent request of parents in the district now has the "A" division housed in a small room made from the end of the hall. Likewise grade 1-A is housed in a room immediately under the 3-A grade, which is of the same size and nature.

A large number of transfers have been made from the Washington building to other schools until those remaining are only the ones adjacent to the building or to the west of the school.

Homan. The room is most beautifully furnished in tapestry, with velvet rugs, spacious day-ports, rockers. The small chapel, also on the first floor, in memory of Mrs. Jennie Pierce, by Charles Pierce, was also the cause of much favorable comment.

An informal program of musical and organ numbers was given in the main auditorium while the visitors rested.

At the morning service a special offering was received and the hope was expressed that enough would be secured in cash and pledges to reduce the necessary bank loan from $125,000 to at least $110,000. No "drive" has been used in raising the over $20,000 already received. The voluntary gradual payment plan is being used.

The complete service was radio-cast from the church through Station WTAS at the Villa Olivia and was received by many Elginites unable to go to the church as well as people outside the state. A special receiving set was installed at the Dundee Methodist church where parishioners listened to the bishop's address, instead of their weekly sermon.

BOYS CONCLUDE BIG CONFERENCE

charge of the conference, arranged for every possible courtesy and program detail, to make the meeting one of keen enjoyment, and long to be remembered.

Harry W. White of India, and Dr. Roy E. Vale, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Oak Park, were the principal speakers before the conference, Saturday afternoon and evening, while Albert E. Roberts of New York, and Dr. Evans A. Worthley of Chicago, headed the final speaking program yesterday.

"Christian Standards and the World," was the subject of Mr. White's address.

"The greatest controversy in the world today is the race difference," he declared.

Saturday evening while speaking on the subject, "Christ and Life's Standards," Dr. Vale outlined three points concerning Christ Jesus. He said:

"Jesus is divine. Jesus was pre-existent. Jesus was truly human but without sin."

The speaker outlined the following standards on which boys should build their lives:

"For political standards read the biblical side of this question, Matthew 22: 21. For social standards read Matthew 7: 12. For educational standards read John 8: 32; and for spiritual standards read Matthew 22: 27-39."

Use Golden Rule.
"Employ the Golden Rule through life," Mr. Roberts told his audience yesterday afternoon, while speaking on the subject, "Christian Standards and Life's Greatest Issues."

"Treat your boy friends with the same friendliness with which you care to be treated, and treat your girl friends the same as you would wish your mother and sister to be treated. Go through life with Christ as your King."

Upon the invitation of Mr. Roberts more than 400 boys stepped forward and pledged themselves to accept Christ as their King.

Dr. Worthley discoursed last evening on the important subject, "Christian Standards and My Vocation."
"Pick your own vocation, boys. Do not let anyone else do it for you, but whatever vocation you choose, let the standards of Christ be included."

Boyd I. Walker, conference executive secretary, fittingly closed the eleventh annual meeting by urging the young men to "go to your respective cities and carry out the resolutions made during the conference in Elgin."

coffee house as a house of entertainment where guests are supplied with coffee and other refreshments, and where men meet for conversation."

He also said that he had discovered the following from Macauley:

"The coffee-house must not be dismissed with a cursory mention. It might, indeed, at that time have been not improperly called a most important political institution. The coffee-house where the chief organs through which the public opinion of the metropolis vented itself. . . . Every man of the upper or middle class went daily to his coffee-house to learn the news and discuss it. Every coffee-house had one or more orators, to whose eloquence the crowd listened with admiration, and who soon became what the journalists of our own time have been called—a fourth estate of the realm."

"In appearing before the council today," said Mr. Andresen, "I want to first say that this will be the only protest from the persons whom I represent. If the council adopts the ordinance my clients will pay the tax and pay it without further complaint."

Previous to Mr. Andresen's protest, the council deferred action on the "coffee shop" ordinance, as well as on three other proposed new ordinances, until their next regular meeting.

NEED 3 YEARS TO CHANGE TO J. H. S.

buildings by September, 1927. The proposition is submitted to the voters at this time for the following, among other, reasons:

"1. For the efficient administration of the schools, two to three years is required for a change from the old graded system to the junior high, so that the studies of children approaching junior high age may be properly arranged; teachers adequately advised of the intentions of the board, and sufficient time allowed for proper study of building plans and specifications.

"2. The location of school sites and the erection of school buildings cannot be undertaken by the board without the approval of the people at an election. Until the plan is ratified, the board would not be warranted in incurring expense for plans or for sites. After tentative sites have been found, the location thereof, as well as the cost, must be submitted to a referendum.

"3. The erection of any buildings, whether junior high or merely additions, will require an increase in the building fund tax rate, and such increase should be approved by the people. The present board has no intention of using the power it might have to build up a surplus from year to year, unless the people by a referendum approve of the contemplated plan.

"4. Any program relative to the schools, whether building or administrative, should relate to the future,

MAPPING LIQUOR CONTROL LAWS

Sale Across Bars Urged By Hotel Men.

Chicago, Sept. 21. — (AP)—A warning that repeal of prohibition would not drive speakeasies out of Illinois unless sales of liquor were permitted across the bar was sounded by the president of a large Chicago hotel at the hearing of the commission planning adequate control laws for the state.

The speaker was Walter L. Gregory, who with Ernest Byfield represented the Chicago Hotel association in a plea for a high retail license and fairly high taxes.

"You will never succeed in abolishing the bar, regardless of what laws you pass," said Gregory. "If public consumption is forbidden there will be private drinking with pathological effects comparable to those of dope addicts."

Banning of bars he said would result in from 10,000 to 15,000 speakeasies in the Chicago area paying no tax, recognizing no supervision, and serving as headquarters for highly organized crime.

He recommended a state license fee of $1,000 and a city license fee of $1,500 and said as a result "there will be less drinking of hard liquor than under the package sale system."

A plea along the same lines was voiced by Attorney Thomas J. Howe, speaking for the Cook County Retail Fermented Liquor Dealers' association. However, he warned against too high license fees for owners of taverns.

On the other hand, Maurice L. Ross, president of the Old Rose Distilling company, urged adoption of the package sale of liquor.

Cremate Body Of Dr. Annie Besant

Madras, India, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The body of Dr. Annie Besant, world Theosophical leader who died yesterday, was cremated today on a pyre of sandalwood near the mouth of the Adyar river. A large gathering chanted verses from the Bhagavad Gita, an ancient philosophical poem.

Nominations for the presidency of the Theosophical society, made vacant by her death, will be called for within three months and members throughout the world will vote. Meanwhile, A. P. Warrington will serve as acting president.

The sandalwood pyre was lighted by Bishop C. W. Leadbeater, who was named by Dr. Besant a year ago to succeed her as head of her school.

Charged With High Treason

Leipzig, Germany, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Incendiarism in the German Reichstag became a secondary issue and high treason the primary point today as the supreme court trial of five men charged with setting the fire last February got under way.

The court moved the phrase, "attempt forcibly to overthrow the constitution," in the foreground of the indictments and put the charges of incendiarism second.

This indicated that the whole realm of communist activity in Germany will be investigated.

Decapitation has been recommended as penalty upon conviction. Defendants are Marinus Van Der Lubbe, 24-year-old brick mason and alleged Dutch Communist; Ernst Torgler, 42, former Communist party whip, and three Bulgarian political refugees, Georgi Dimitroff, Blagoi Popoff, and Wassi Taneff.

Allegations have been made abroad that Chancellor Hitler's Nazis themselves had fired the parliament building in a bid for power and that Communists, whom the Nazis blame, had nothing to do with it.

(An unofficial legal commission sitting in London said in its report that grave grounds exist for suspecting that the blaze was started by, or on behalf of, leading Nazis.)

OBITUARY

Karl Christ

Karl Christ died at the home of his son, Edward Christ, 751 Adams street, early today. He was born in Wurttemberg, Germany, June 5, 1870, and came to America and directly to Elgin in 1890. He was a member of Silver Leaf camp, M. W. A., of Dundee.

He is survived by nine children, Gertrude, Helen, Clara, Henry, Fred, Edward, Walter and Frank, all of Elgin, and Albert Christ, of Taconite, Minn. Five grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Wait-Ross-Allanson funeral church, Rev. F. F. Jordan, pastor of the First Evangelical church, officiating. Burial will be in Bluff City cemetery. Friends may call at the chapel.

Dell S. Hyde

Dell S. Hyde, 67 years old, a former Elgin resident, died suddenly at Mooseheart at 6 o'clock last evening. Mr. Hyde had made his home at Mooseheart since leaving Elgin five years ago.

He was a member of Althea lodge No. 619, I. O. O. F., and the Loyal Order of Moose.

He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Susie Becker Hyde; three children, Mrs. Nellie Funk of North Aurora; Mrs. Frank Mullins, of Batavia, and Earl Hyde, of New York City, and a grandson, Master Gail Mullins, of Batavia.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Burnett and Johnson funeral home in Batavia.

Thomas Lawrence Whittaker

Thomas Lawrence Whittaker, 78 years old, died unexpectedly at Anadarko, Okla., Wednesday, following an illness of several months. He was born at Crystal Lake, January 1855. His wife, Ida Dillon Whittaker died in September 1918. The Whittakers formerly resided at Carpentersville. A brother, Andrew J. Whittaker, of Los Angeles and a sister, Miss Delia Whittaker, of Dundee, survive, as do two daughters, Mrs. William F. Oatman, of Dundee, and Miss Grace M. Whittaker, of Oklahoma City, and one son, Leo T. Whittaker, of Anadarko, Okla. Funeral services will be held at Ruhl's funeral home at Dundee, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Harvey Lee Durant, Jr.

Harvey Lee Durant, Jr., 38 years old, son of Harvey L. Durant, publisher of the Wheaton Illinorian, and Mrs. Durant, died at his home in Wheaton early this morning, of pneumonia, contracted on a fishing trip in Wisconsin. He was born in St. Charles and attended grade and high school there, later being employed as engineer on St. Charles sewer work. Since 1930, he has been employed in the Illinorian office with his father. Mr. Durant was married in October, 1924, to Miss Frances DeWolfe, at Tuscon, Ariz. He is survived by his widow; two children, Lois Lee and James Francis; his parents, and three brothers, Phillip, Samuel and Perry Charles. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

William Garbe

William Garbe, 67 years old, a native of Germany, and a resident of Huntley and vicinity for 30 years, died in his sleep last night at his home, 2457 Sunnyside avenue, Chicago. Mr. Garbe came to America when a young man and followed the vocation of farming for

A RARE CIRCUS TREAT PLANNED

Geneva Scouts, Legion Feature Saturday.

Unique in the annals of Fox valley home talent productions will be the Scout-Legion parade and circus performance, to be presented at Geneva, Saturday, September 23. Trained and imitation animals, acrobatic stunts, bareback riding, gymnasts, Indians, clowns, and all that go to make up a complete circus will appear in the parade at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and in the two performances, at 3 and 8 p. m., at the Geneva high school athletic field.

Four weeks ago Geneva Boy Scout leaders and members of Fox River Post No. 75, American Legion, conceived the idea of operating and presenting a circus, the participants in which would be entirely home juvenile talent. The affair has been unique in that no contributions have or will be solicited. If any profit results from the paid attendance, it will be divided between the Boy and Girl Scouts, the American Legion and Auxiliary, and the Geneva High School band fund.

Many Features in Parade

Circus day in Geneva Saturday will start with a mammoth parade at 1 o'clock. The line of march will be from the Fourth street school, south to James street, east on James to First, north on First to State, west on State to McKinley, and north on McKinley to the athletic field, where at 3 o'clock the afternoon performance will start. Side shows will be open one hour before City officials will light the field for the evening performance, scheduled to start at 8 o'clock.

The parade will consist of the massed colors of all civic and fraternal organizations in Geneva, the Geneva high school band, children's pet and doll section, Aurora Boy Scout Drum and Bugle corps, comic section, Glen Elynn Boy Scout band, antique vehicle section, Geneva Legion Drum corps, wild and tame animals, West Chicago Boy Scout Drum corps, circus actors and actresses, Batavia Legion Drum and Bugle corps, and Boy and Girl Scouts. Cash prizes are offered for winners in the vehicle, pet and comic sections. Entries for the parade can be made as late as Friday night, at circus headquarters, Geneva 662.

Dr. F. M. Marsteller will be marshal of the parade.

Many Hair-Raising Acts

On the circus performance program are such acts as wrestling, weight-lifting, tight-rope walking, rescue from a burning house, bicycles ridden through flame, bareback riding, auto racing, sham battle depicting "Custer's Last Stand," and shooting a Scout from a cannon. An Indian pageant will be presented, and a tug-of-war between East and West Geneva, at the evening performance. Each performance will close with the Scout Council Fire and patriotic ceremony. Over 50 clowns will bring laughter to the children and adults as well.

The side show attractions will be motion pictures of Geneva's Boy and Girl Scouts in camp; "Sally," the perfect dancer, and freaks of nature in human and animal form.

A menagerie of mild and tame beasts has been collected, not to mention

St. Charles Escapes Held To Minimum

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—(AP)—Escapes from the Illinois State Training School for Boys near St. Charles have been cut sharply since state police were called in two months ago to help curb runaways. Governor Green reported yesterday he said only two boys have escaped in the last two months, and that both were quickly recaptured.

"CASE" YOU DON'T KNOW!

Margie Selpien is a new member in the fuze automatics.

The next time E. Anderson wants hamburgers he will make them himself. He says "it's too much trouble getting out the gate, past the guards."

Liz Berg of Fuze reworks has been confined to the hospital—but now is at home — and getting along nicely.

Al Locomer of the Fuze reworks had a battle with old man snow last week, and lost. Better take your shovel along next time, Al.

One of Fuze Reworks Charlie's gags—Think February will ever March? Don't know—but April May.

Loretta Quirin's cousin, Father Teodoric Kernel, who was a missionary in China and a Japanese prisoner for nine months, was one of the passengers on the Swedish exchange ship, The Gripsholm. He is now teaching at Joliet and will return to China as soon as the war is over.

Verne Keller is a proud daddy of a bouncing baby boy. Congrats.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sanders spent the week end of Feb. 5 in and around Racine, Wis.

Folks would like to know if A. Traub ever tires of drinking coffee?

Cpl. Charles B. Crawford, who has been in the Hawaiian Islands for the past eight months, phoned Rosemary Crawford from there. It was quite a phone call as it lasted well over five minutes.

Mrs. N. A. Margius has been ill at her home, 273 Moseley St. We hope she is well on the mend by now.

Here's another daddy—this time again—none other than Harold Huske—and it's a girl. Congrats.

Emma Sides has been seriously ill with old man flu—but is now getting along swell, thanks.

Mary Masi's son Russell was home on leave from San Francisco, recently.

Mr. Leo L. Stone, Asst., General Manager, is celebrating his narrow escape from the highway collision last Washington's birthday which completely wrecked his car and left him with comparatively light injuries. After a week in Sherman Hospital he has returned to his home and may be back at his desk by date of this publication.

He asks us to extend his sincere appreciation to all of his fellow workers whom he cannot address personally for their many kind expressions of friendship and good will.

Edna Phillips's son came home recently on furlough after spending two and one half years in Alaska. It was a happy event for all.

Two on the bomb nose line were given corsages from past operators for valentine—love in bloom, could be.

Ad. See E. Mapes for what the well dressed man wears.

It's grandma Rose Hagenow, it's her first—grandchild, thank you.

The gals on the bomb nose line were asked not to wear office garb to work.

The gals on filing swoon when Bob Kirkpatrick (Sinatra) gives out with that swell voice of his. Let's all hear it Bob.

Wanted to know? Whence comes Anna Anderson's, of fuze automatics, sudden interest in farming? Maybe she is just plain smart, she'll eat anyhow.

Leonard S. Kriser, executive V. P. of the Batavia Metal Products, related concern in Batavia, Ill., which makes shell boxes, burster tubes and participates closely with us on the War Program, is the proud papa of a baby boy, at Geneva Community hospital. The father is doing nicely.

"Beamish," one of IWC guards, has a little nephew who told him, "You are like my turtle." "Why?" asked the Unc. "'Cause you sleep all the time, too."

Jane Peck spent two weeks in New York recently.

We're sorry to learn that Grace Wright has had to leave us due to illness. Hope you're back soon, Grace.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to Ella Glaede in her recent bereavement—in the death of her mother.

Al Bowman and Ed Summers are back on the fighting front at IWC again after being at home due to accidents. Be careful, boys, in the future.

The guys on the turret lathes have a new outlook on life now with the new glasses they are wearing on the job.

On Jan. 31, Jean Tazewell of Production Control Dept. celebrated her birthday and was she surprised upon seeing the cake, bearing 20 candles, that was presented her in the cafeteria at noon. Congrats.

Laura Kerber was out a few days due to a cold.

Some of the girls in the Office would like to know who sent the valentines, as though we didn't know.

Jeannie was quite disappointed in receiving so many valentines, but without names. Who did it?

In the last two weeks there has been a certain young man coming into the Production Control Office. Could it be the new addition—Mrs. Shirley Smith? Another newcomer is Eddie Kleinschmidt. Watch out girls.

Fred Schultz from the Machine Repair Dept. and his family took a trip to Gambier, Ohio, Feb. 12 and 13 where their nephew graduated from Kinton College, in the Army Air Corp.

Emma Sides's sister and brother-in-law, Captain Kolher and son, visited a few days with her. They are from Elwood, Ill.

Ella Lanz of Automatics received word from her son Johnny of Phoenix, Ariz., that he is now
